MARK TWAIN'S BOOKKERPER.

The Shortage New Said to be at Least $30,000-A Cash Book Missing. Mr. Charles I. Webster, one of Mark Twain's partners in the book publishing firm es I. Webster & Co., now believes that the firm has lost at least $30,000 by the manipulations of the books by Frank M. Scott, their young bookkeeper, who is now in jail in Newk waiting for bondsmen who will qualify for $40,000. Mr. Webster denied yesterday that there was any intention of taking Scott into the firm, and that the young man was merely regarded as a painstaking and thorough bookkeeper. He said Scott was employed in July, 585, at $1,100 a year, and this was subsequently raised to $1,200, which seemed to please and satisfy the young man. He had some habits that seemed extravagant, such as hiring messenger boys to order his dinners at the Morton House and hiring backs when sent to the bank to make deposits; but there was no suspicion of crookedness until recently, when Mr. Charles Langdon of Elmira, a personal friend of Mr. Webster, wrote that he had forwarded $12 twice for a set of "Grant's Memoirs," and Scott said that the amount had not been paid twice. Mr. Webster was satisfied that Mr. Langdon had sent the money twice, but to prove it Mr. Langdon sent back two receipted statements. Then Scott said he had made a mistake. He wrote a contrite letter of apology to Mr. Langdon, Mr. Webster employed an expert to examine the accounts of "Grant's Memoirs" overy quarter, but the expert did not examine the general secounts. Three weeks ago the expert. Mr. John Anyon, was instructed to go over all the books of the firm, Scott did not know of this order, and when Mr. Anyon began to examine the cash book he told him it had nothing to do with the Grant account.

"I know it has not," said the expert, "but I am instructed to examine all of the books of the firm. Scott this, Mr. Webster said, he became nervous and turned pale. He House and hiring backs when sent to the bank Am instructed to examine all of the books of the firm."

When Seqtt heard this, Mr. Webster said, he became nervous and turned pale. He glanced over Mr. Anyon's shoulder several times, and then remarked:

"I am afraid I am about to have one of my bilious attacks and would like to go home."

He was allowed to go. Mr. Anyon reported Scott was short $131 in the first month that he was employed by the firm, $600 in August, $500 in September, and $500 in November. A false credit entry of $15.574 on Dec. 31, 1886, could not be accounted for by any transaction in the firm's business,

Mr. Webster said that while Scott was pretending to be sick at home detectives reported that he took daily drives with his wife, or visited the Athletic Club, but when an employee of the firm called upon him on several occasions he was found sick abed.

Mr. Webster said that he learned that Scott operated in Wall street, but he could not find that he made much money. A bad feature of the case is that an old cash book which was in Scott's custody three weeks ago is now missing, and it is quite necessary for further investigation. One questionable entry of $5,000, which was transferred from this book, cannot be explanation of other entries depend upon it.

MR. DINSMORE'S OPERA HOUSE.

ntented Stockholders-Will the Na-

Several of the stockholders of the Academy of Music openly express their dissatisfaction at the recent sale of the Academy property to Mr. W. B. Dinsmore for $300,000, and think it might have brought more. None of them will admit that steps are to be taken to have the court set aside the sale. Mr. Herman Leroy, President of the Board of Directors, said he didn't think anything of the kind would be done. Mr. August Belmont said he had heard

An eye witness of the sale said yesterday: "The Exchange was crowded at the time of the sale. Business was going on at four or five stands. Auctioneer Peter Meyer stood at the stand of Adrian Muller & Co, and auctioned off one or two pieces of property before he came to the Academy. He then read over hurriedly the terms of the saio and called for a bid. Right behind him on the stand stood W. B. Dinsmore and Clarence A. Soward. For a while there was no response. Then Mr. Dinsmore whispered to Meyer and Meyer started it at $300,000. Managor Amberg bid $300,000 at the same time and then came forward and spoke to Meyer. He said he had only $10,000 with him. The terms of the sale required a deposit of $30,000. Amberg said he would bid higher if the auctioneer would give him time to arrange with some one present for $20,000. Ho went away to another part of the room, and, after calling for a minute or so for a higher bid, the auctioneer knocked down the property to Mr. Dinsmore. The whole thing took only fourteen minutes.

Frank R. Lawrence, attorney for the National Opera Company, said yesterday that Mr. Dinsmore was ready to sell the property at a profit, and that the National Opera Company would like to buy it for what it is worth, and would do so if the money necessary could be obtained.

"It is under consideration." he said, "but only one thing is as yet tolerably certain, and that is that the National Opera Company will begin its performances at the Academy in October. Whether it will be as the owner or the lessee of the building we can't tell yet." stands. Auctioneer Peter Meyer stood at the

The trial of Louis Behrman for alleged blackmail in writing to Morris Spiegel, liquor dealer in Broad street, letters offering to change his testimony as in-formant for the Government in a suit against Spiegel, the latter would send Bohrman $1,200, was continued in the General Sessions before Recorder Smyth yesterday Ferdinand Straus testified for the prosecution that he had worked with Behrman before the trial against Spiegel and that Behrman wrote letters to Spiegel. The witness identified the handwriting of Behrman in the letter signed "L.B.," in which [8], 200 is demanded of Spiegel.

Spicgel.

Louis Behrman testified in his own behalf that he did not send the letters Spicgel produced in court and that he did not cause them to be sent. Behrman's lawyer asserted that Behrman's handwriting had been initiated the scheme being toget Behrman out of the way because he is the chief winess for the United States in a wit against Spicgel for alleged violation of the Internal Revenue is.

Maybe the Aldermen will Pay the Bill

Mayor Hewitt sent to the Aldermen yesterday a batch of vetoes of resolutions passed by the Alder-snen to permit various street obstructions. He also vetoed the resolution to pay the funeral expenses of the late Al-derman Masterson, amounting to $1,048.25. Nayor Hew-sit raises the point that the amount is properly charge-while to the contingent fund of the Common Council for 1885; that if it should be paid out of the contingent fund for 1887; it would use up mearly all of it; that there are go precedents for some of the Items of expenditure, and hat the addition of the Item of $225 for engrossing the resolutions introduces a new feature of expenditure for funerals which is unnecessary. As to the tradestice who furnished the goods, the Mayor says they took the risk when they furnished the goods wittout ascertaining that the expenditures were legal. He thinks that the extrav-agant charges of some of the tradesticen will deprive them of sympathy. ition to pay the funeral expenses of the late Al-

Gen. Shaler was at the Health Department offices yesterday morning to meet Editor Hayles, the new President of the Board. He entered a formal pro-test against the occupation of the office by Mr. Bayles, Rayles's appointment as illegal. Ils did this in order that whatever rights he had in the premises might be reserved. After Gen. Shaler went away the licalit Board met with its new President in the chair. It ordered that when a cart load of manner accumulates in a stable it must be removed within twenty-four hours, unless pressed or baled, and that a bale must be removed within the ordered that when a cart load of manner accumulates in a stable ir must be removed within twenty-four hours, unless pressed or baled, and that a bale must be removed within ten days. Whales on the Long Island Coast.

The Amagansett shore whalers are busy. The monster whale that went to the bottom two weeks ago was recovered and towed ashore. It is suppose that it will not a profit of more than $1,000. On Saturday mat it will not a profit or more than $1,000. On acturacy another whale was sighted and captured after a long classe, and on Monday the lookout reported another spouter of siors. The boats were reported chasing this pice yesterday. The report of these captures has produced marked restiveness at Sag Harbor and Greenport, that were bury ports before the collapse of the whale fisheries on the coasts, and the eyes of many a weather beaten old tar are set longingly toward the south.

Suit for Six Dollars and Principle.

Joseph White has a suit for six dollars pending in the Superior Court. It is brought against the American Loan and Trust Company. The suit was called for trial yesterday before Judge Truax. As soon as the Judge was made aware of the amount at stake he in-guired why the time of the Court should be consumed and the county put to expense for such a dispute. The plaintiff's counsel asserted that the action had been in-stituted as a vatter of principle. Judge 'crinx put the mass of declining to try it until the Court had time to spare. The costs of an action in this court are $200.

THE WESTERN SETTLER'S CHOSEN SPECIFIC.

With every advance of emigration into the far West new demand is created for HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Newly-peopled regions are frequently less salubrious than older settled localities, on account of the miasma which rises from recently cleared land, particularly along the banks of rivers that are subject to freshets. The agricultural or mining emigrant soon learns. when he does not already know, that the Bitters afford orders of the stomach, liver, and bowels to which climate stimate upon this great household specific and preven-dve commensurate with its intrinsic merits, and is care-

FORTY TALESMEN MAKE ONE SUROR.

Cleary's Twentieth and Last Perempt Challenge Expended Yesterday. There is still a vacant chair in the Cleary jury box in the Oyer and Terminer Court room Bias, prejudice, lack of intelligence, too much intelligence, acquaintance with Aldermen, and lack of acquaintance with the English tongue are hurdles that not one in forty of the talesmen can get over. Max Blau was put in the vacant fifth chair yesterday morning. The people were content, but the defence challenged Benno Klopfer, Klopfer had been sitting in the second chair since the last day of last win-ter. He was delighted to get away, and shook hands in commiserative farewell with Jonathan B. Curry, No. 12, another original juror. Forty-E. Curry, No. 12 another original jutor. Forty-eight citizens were sent away before Millard Fillmore Prince, a broker at 6 Harrison street, was lassoed. Mr. Shafer asked him if he would really believe Fullgraff and Duffy. "If they are strongly corroborated, yes; if not, no." said the witness. "Not if their story seemed probable?"

"No. If their story seemed probable?"

No. This had been the question and these the answers upon which the prosecution had based several challenges which had been sustained by Justice Barrett, and Mr. Shafer returned to his sent triumphant with the challenge on his lips. To his surprise the Court overruled it and gave Mr. Prince the vacant sent.

"What?" shrieked the astounded counsellor.

"Does your Honor say that the challenge is overruled when you have sustained the same challenge for our opponents many times? I appeal to the statutes. They say "Interrupted the Court, mildly reading from a thin volume, to the effect that the defendant may challenge for confessed bias or for other reason clearly shown to be to the prejudice of his case."

Mr. Shafer arose and, gesticulating vigorously with a clenched right fist, declared:

"If one rule is to be for the prosecution and another for the defence, then, even with so wise a Judge as yourself on the beach, jury trials will be a farce."

Mr. Shafer asked that an exception be noted. Judge Barrett asked:

"How does this juror's inability to believe Fuligraff and Duffy prejudice the defendant's case."

"Why this man has already got Cleary con-

Fullgraff and Duffy projudice the defendant's case y"
"Why this man has already got Cleary convicted before he goes into the box, and our opponents know it," shouted Mr. Shafer.

Quiet was restored in thirty seconds. Mr. Shafer then in ordinary tones expended his last peremptory challenge to unseat Book-binder Peter McIndoe, the seventh juror, and with a warning to the two new jurors the court adjourned until 11 o'clock to-day, Altogether 700 jurors have been called and 471 examined.

THE NEWSBOYS' FRIEND'S FUNERAL Superintendent O'Connor Buried in Green

In the centre of the big eating room in the Newsboys' Lodging House, 14 New Chambers street, yesterday morning was the coffin containing the remains of Superintendent Charles O'Conner, the newsboys' friend. It was covered with flowers, and close to the head was a small floral pillow with the word "Friend" in purple immortelles. It was the offering of the boys. The big wooden pillars in the room were wound with black cloth. Most of the boys took a last look at the familiar face early in the morning, and then hurried away, as usual to sell papers.

boys took a last look at the familiar face earry in the morning, and then hurried away, as usual, to sell papers.

At 10:30 well-dressed men and women, trustees and patrons, were grouped about the coffin. A low newsboys were scattered about the room. There were no tears in their eyes, but when anything good was said of Mr. O'Connor they looked at each other, nodded, and seemed pleased. The Rev. Cornelius B. Smith, rector of St. James's Protestant Episcopal Church, conducted the services, A choir sang "Jesus, lover of my soul," "I heard a voice from heaven," and "Nearer, my God. to Thee," Mr. C. L. Brace of the Children's Aid Society, Mr. Charles E. Whitehead, and Mr. Howard Potter spoke feelingly of their long acquaintance with Superintendent O'Connor and of his work. Mr. Brace said:

"A man to fill Mr. O'Connor's position must be a good hotel keeper, a business man, a man full of sympathy for the poor, yet strict in his discipline. He has made this a model institution, visited and copied by people from all over the world. The records show that 200,000 boys have been in Mr. O'Connor's charge. They are scattered everywhere, but they always remembered him and reminded him of their gratitude to him very often. His bestifforts no one knew. Only the relatives followed the body to the grave at Greenwood, and none of the boys marched to the forry, as was expected.

A CHILD'S SKIN

Ears and Scalp Covered with Eczematous Scabs and Sores Cured by Cuticura.

My little son, aged eight years, has been afflicted with Eczema of the eralp, and at times a great portion of the body, ever since he was two years old. It began in his ears, and extended to his scalp, which became covered with scales and sores, and from which asticky fluid poured out, causing intense itching and distress, and leaving his hair matted and lifeless. Undernoath these scales the skin was raw, like a piece of beefsteak. Gradually the hair came out and was destroyed. hair came out and was destroyed, until but a small patch was left at the back of the head. My friends in Peabody know how my little boy has suffered. At night he would scratch his head until his pillow was covered with blood. I used to the his hands behind but and in many ways I used to the his hands behind ben and in many ways tried to prevent his scratching; but it was no use, he would scratch. I took bin to the hospital and to the best physicians in Peabody without success. About this time, some friends, who had been cured by the CUTICURA REMEDIES, prevailed upon me to try them. I began to use them on the 15th of January last. In seven months every particle of the disease was removed. Not a spot or scab remains on his scalp to tell the story of his suffering. His hair has returned, and is thick and strong, and his scalp as sweet and clean as any child's in the world. I cannot say enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure enough to express my gratitude for this wonderful cure by the CUTICURA RENKDIES, and wish all similarly afficied to know that my statement is true and without exaggration. CHARLES McKAY, exaggeration. Peabody, Mass

Oct. 6, 1885.

I have seen Mr. McKay's boy when badly affected with the Eczema. He was a pitiful sight to look at. I know that he has tried our best physicians, and did all a father could do for a suffering child, but availed nothing. I Oct. 6, 1885. know that the statements he has made you as regards the curing of his boy by your CUTICURA REMEDIES are true in every particular
